DESCRIPTION Andaman7 is a mobile, free and collaborative health application providing Synchronized Health Records. Comprehensive records can be built within a secure circle of users ensuring proper communication and diagnosis.

1. create health records
2. share them (or parts of them) with selected people (a circle of trust)
3. have everyone collaborate and access those records from anywhere

Our API allows any other actor to integrate and add health data to the records (connected devices, hospitals, research centers, etc.).

No health data is kept on servers after synchronization, everything remains on the devices.
